Daiquiri Fun Facts

- The drink was invented by an American mining engineer, named Jennings Cox, who was in Daiquiri, Cuba at the time of the Spanish-American War.
- He added a shot of Bacardi rum, a spoonful of sugar and crushed ice to the lime juice, and the concoction was an instant hit. Cox dubbed the new drink "Ron Bacardi a la Daiquiri," which has shortened to simply "Daiquiri" over the years.
- Rear Admiral Lucius W. Johnson, U.S. Navy medical officer introduced it to the Army and Navy Club in Washington, D.C. and the drink became quite popular.
- It was one of the favorite drinks of writer Ernest Hemingway and President John F. Kennedy.
