MAPLE GROVE FUN FACTS!

- Early inhabitants: The Winnebago people were the original inhabitants of the Maple Grove area. They were relocated to the area by the Federal Government in the mid-1800s.
- European settlers: The first European settlers arrived in Maple Grove in 1851. These settlers, Louis Gervais and Pierre Bottineau, laid the groundwork for the community that would become Maple Grove.
- City incorporation: Maple Grove was incorporated as a city in 1954. This was a pivotal moment in the city's history, as it allowed Maple Grove to establish a structured government and begin planning for future growth.
- Maple syrup production: The city was named for its large stands of maple trees, which were a significant source of maple syrup in the early days.
- Rapid growth: Since the 1970s, Maple Grove has experienced rapid growth due to the completion and improvement of major highways like Interstates 94/694, 494, and U.S. Highway 169. This growth has transformed Maple Grove from a rural area into a thriving suburban city.
- Pierre Bottineau House: The Pierre Bottineau House is the oldest surviving structure in Maple Grove. Built in 1854, it was the first wood-frame house built in Maple Grove Township. The house has been moved from its original location and is now located in Elm Creek Park Reserve.
