To whom it may concern:

The Town Planner has proven to be a great marketing tool for all three of my Primrose Schools. After advertising with the Town Planner now for several years, I have found year after year that I have many clients become Primrose families after learning of our schools from the Town Planner. Not only has the Town Planner been a great marketing tool for us but Tim DiGioia, Owner, and his wife are extremely helpful in the sales and marketing process. Tim has also volunteered to post additional events from the schools on his website and other available marketing tools.

Overall, I highly recommend talking with Tim to see what the Town Planner could offer your business. The potential networking and relationship building with the Town Planner is definitely worth looking into for your local business needs.

Respectfully,
