Deb and Jay,

During the course of my duties I am inundated with advertising ideas that will revolutionize how we do business, usually it is money wasted, and I never see or hear from the rep again. Your company is different, you offer a good product that works well and is budget friendly. I think part of the reason your calendar does well is the fact you are connected with and have a good pulse with our community and its vendors, your suggestions are valid and we have just signed on for 2012, you guys are a pleasure!

Sincerely,
Art Morley
